Voluntarily deferred by the author during House Retirement Committee proceedings on March 27, 2014. Deferred by the House Retirement Committee on April 10, 2014.

House Bill No. 1225 by Representative Joel Robideaux

This bill alters the current funding mechanism for the Experience Accounts held at the four state retirement systems. The bill also alters the payment mechanism and frequency of future PBIs. The bill requires that the state retirement systems increase amounts of excess investment income to payments on the outstanding debts of the retirement systems and restricts the creation of additional system liabilities by limiting the frequency of benefit increases to be provided from the Experience Accounts.

Future allocations of excess investment income to the payment of retirement system debt will be indexed each year by the percentage increase in the actuarial value of the assets of the system. The proposed legislation allows for the funding of future PBIs in the following manner:

A benefit increase funded by the account is limited to the lesser of the following:

1. The CPI-U for the twelve month period ending on the system's valuation date.
 - a. If the system is 85% funded or greater, 3%.
 - b. If the system is at least 75% funded but less than 85% funded and the legislature has not granted a benefit increase in the preceding year, 2.5%.
 - c. If the system is at least 65% funded but less than 75% funded and the legislature has not granted a benefit increase in the preceding year, 2%.
 - d. If the system is at least 55% funded but less than 65% funded and the legislature has not granted a benefit increase in the preceding year, 1.5%.
 - e. If the system is less than 55% funded, no benefit increase shall be granted.

No benefit increase may be granted in any year the retirement system is 80% funded and the system does not meet its actuarially assumed rate of return of 8.0%.

Benefit increases granted after July 1, 2015 shall be calculated on the first $60,000 of a retiree's annual benefit. Eligible retirees will have to be age 60 and retired for at least one year before the increase is paid, and beneficiaries will be eligible for the increase if the deceased retiree would have met these eligibility requirements. The bill must be enacted into law in order for the PBI legislation (Senate Bill No. 21) to become effective.

LRTA will closely monitor this legislation.

Senate Bill No. 17 by Senator Gerald Long

The regular increase and the supplemental increase cannot cumulatively exceed a 3.0% increase in the benefit. The supplemental increase will be applied to the first $93,755 of the annual benefit currently received from TRSL.
