OPPOSE SENATE BILL #5
IN ITS ORIGINAL FORM

See pages 2, 4 and 5 for details

During the last year the Louisiana Retired Teachers Association (LRTA) has focused on politics, people, and places.

In terms of politics, the Louisiana State Legislature convened its regular legislative session on Monday, March 11, 2024, and final adjournment will be no later than 6 p.m. on Monday, June 3, 2024.

During the preparation of this newsletter, LRTA is tracking six pieces of legislation ranging from technical amendments, and return to work to restrictions regarding fiduciary responsibilities of retirement boards.

The most important bill that LRTA is monitoring is SB 5 by Senator Blake Miquez that will restrict how retirement boards can invest regarding environmental, social and government companies.

This legislation is troublesome because these restrictions would have a profound and negative impact on our investment returns and almost certainly create more debt and eliminate any chance for cost-of-living increases in the future.

LRTA opposes SB 5 in its original form and supports the TRSL Board's essential mission to invest in any companies that provide for the greatest return at the lowest possible risk.

Included in this edition on page five are talking points describing why this legislation would have a negative impact on retirement plans, statewide. Also included on page four is information for other bills LRTA is tracking regarding our retirement plan.

LRTA and TRSL will work with Senator Miquez to amend the bill into a posture that would not have a negative effect on our retirement plan. If our efforts are unsuccessful, we will provide our members with talking points, sample letters and contact information for legislators at the district meetings in March. A complete listing of meetings can be found on our website at lrta.net.

Additionally, for those that have elected to receive this newsletter electronically and/or who wish to receive email updates from LRTA, please note that you MUST subscribe to our email club. We have found that some members previously unsubscribed and are now wanting to receive emails from us. In order for that to happen the member must re-subscribe. Please reference the last page of this newsletter for instructions on how to subscribe to receive emails from LRTA.

Also, included in this edition is a pictorial review of people and places I've visited around the state this past year. In all, I made over 40 presentations to LRTA units and districts with updates on important political venues that could have either a positive or negative effect on our benefit plan. But it's not all business at these meetings. LRTA members shared a long history of educational experiences as educators, maintaining a timeless bond that brings them together in retirement. Our retirees meet and take time to share past experiences but also meet to share the richness of their lives as parents, grandparents, and even great grandparents. Each meeting is different where local meetings embrace their specific food and culture.

Whether I'm visiting an ice cream social in Homer, LA or eating boudin in Houma, LA, each meeting is rich with stories and experiences that only retired educators can bring to the table. If you did not have a opportunity to attend a meeting, review the pictures in our people and places section of this newsletter and consider joining us in the future.

As I finish my ninth year as your executive director, I want to thank all of our nearly 19,000 members for their dedication and service to the children of Louisiana.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR LRTA PRESIDENT

With my presidential term coming to an end this spring, I want to share what an incredible journey it has been for me to be an integral part of LRTA. I first joined as an Associate Member and little did I know where this path would lead. Within the first few months as Secretary for the Bogalusa Retired Teachers Association I shifted into the presidential role. Later, I served a very short term as Vice President for LRTA District III. My position then transitioned once again when I accepted the role of President due to the illness of a fellow member. What I thought would be a temporary position turned into me serving for two terms. While serving in this position, I was elected to be the District President. I then served as State Second Vice President, First Vice President, and am now currently serving as the President of LRTA.

These positions gave me experiences that have exposed me to many life lessons and experiences. I had many opportunities to visit several districts and put a face to the name of LRTA. Unfortunately, COVID impacted my personal life, limiting my availability, which resulted in me not being able to visit all Districts. This I regret. However, despite the pandemic limiting physical contact with others, I did learn new things to our advantage at LRTA. For example, Zoom has transformed the way LRTA operates meetings and their attendance numbers. Before COVID, many of us had never heard the term “virtual meetings”. LRTA office personnel pushed us to accept this new way of operations. I had not considered the idea that we could have meetings with members from all over the State without leaving the comfort of home. Senior members, previously nervous about utilizing their computers and this new software, were forced to embrace change. Being forced to move out of their comfort zones, many have since gained more confidence with technology. It also allowed us to save money on travel expenses. This applies especially to the committees and the Board, which now have the option to meet regularly via Zoom. This is a crucial part in keeping our membership up to date concerning legislation.

I have gained lifelong relationships and friendships across Louisiana, as well as across the United States. Along my travels I was exposed to new insights and essential retirement knowledge when I made two trips to Washington, D.C. for the National Retired Teachers Association. To have our Past President, Janice Hernandez, as a mentor and one of the state committee chairs has been a blessing. Her guidance in this position has been immeasurable. We were able to meet with retired teachers and members of Congress from around the country who are working for WEP and GPO repeal. My trip to Bastrop, Texas afforded me the opportunity to network and share ideas on the advantages and services made available to us through AMBA. Numerous trips to our State Capitol allowed me to learn how the legislative process is achieved. Lobbying for improvements with LRTA was an experience I cherish.

During my tenure the greatest achievements were fighting for and achieving the 2% COLA, COLA Reform, and enhanced partnership with AMBA. We have also improved on how we utilize technology to improve communication and reduce expenses. Through these efforts, there is an increase in unified engagement across membership regarding letter writing, emails, and phone calls to elected officials. They hear our unified voices regarding our agenda in making retirement years better, and they know we will and do hold them accountable.

It is bittersweet as my time comes to a close. As I transition into Past President, I pledge to continue advocating for our retirees. I challenge you to help me in this endeavor by encouraging others to become auto-active members, whether they can attend meetings or not. I also ask you to continue sending letters, emails, and phone calls to keep our elected officials continuously aware of our concerns. Make sure you (your email) is subscribed to the LRTA email club in order to stay up to date on what, when, where, and how legislation stands and if there are any actions you can take to help us make a real difference.

It has been a blessing serving you all and working with the LRTA Team. Thank you, Janice Hernandez, Rodney Watson, Renee Siccone, Morgan Milling, Amanda Bourgeois, and Jennifer Tran for being my guiding light. I would also like to thank my family, Alva Martin and my late husband, Larry Watterson Sr., for encouraging me to run for office.

I leave you with the love of Jesus as we enter a new chapter! The sweet memories are PRICELESS!

BILLS TO WATCH IN THE 2024 REGULAR SESSION

Below are bills that the Louisiana Retired Teachers Association (LRTA) and the Teacher Retirement System of Louisiana (TRSL) are presently tracking. Real time updates can be found on the LRTA website at lrta.net.

Bill No.	Status	Description	Position
SB 5	Pending Senate Retirement	Proposes to define “financial” as having been prudently determined by a fiduciary to have a material effect on the financial risk or the financial return of an investment. Further defines “financial” as not including any action taken, or factor considered, by a fiduciary with any purpose whatsoever to further social, political, or ideological interests. Proposes that a fiduciary may reasonably be determined to have taken an action, or considered a factor, with a purpose to further social, political, or ideological interests by engaging in what is defined in the proposed law as a “fiduciary commitment” (see definition below) to further, through portfolio company engagement, board or shareholder votes, or otherwise as a fiduciary, any of the following beyond what controlling federal or state law requires: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating, reducing, offsetting, or disclosing greenhouse gas emissions. • Instituting or assessing corporate board, or employment, composition, compensation, or disclosure criteria that incorporates characteristics protected in this state. • Divesting from, limiting investment in, or limiting the activities or investments of, any company, for failing, or not committing, to meet environmental standards or disclosures. • Access to abortion, sex or gender change or transgender surgery. • Divesting from, limiting investment in, or limiting the activities or investments of, any company that engages in, facilitates, or supports the manufacture, import, distribution, marketing or advertising, sale, or lawful use of firearms, ammunition or components parts and accessories of firearms or ammunition. Provides that anyone found to have breached these duties is liable for damages equal to three times all monies paid to the person or company by the system for that fiduciary’s services.	OPPOSE IN ITS ORIGINAL FORM
HB 31	Pending House Retirement	Proposes to allow active, contributing participants in the ORP as of June 30, 2024, to make a one-time choice to join the TRSL defined benefit plan. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Must be in writing and received by TRSL on or before December 30, 2024. • For those who make this choice, ORP contributions cease on January 31, 2025, and contributions and service accrual in the TRSL defined benefit retirement plan begin on February 1, 2025, as a member first eligible for membership on that date. 	NEUTRAL
HB 17 (Return to Work)	Pending House Retirement	Proposes to temporarily allow most retirees to be reemployed through a contract or corporate contract without any suspension of their retirement benefit. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Benefit reduction rules remain in place. • Does not apply to disability retirees, those returning to work within a year of retirement, certain retirees filling critical shortages at higher education institutions, or voluntary suspension in lieu of benefit reduction. Proposes that rehired retirees under contract or corporate contract and their employers will be exempt from employee and employer contributions during the reemployment.	NO POSITION
HB 35 (Return to Work)	Pending House Retirement	Proposes to allow a retiree who retired after June 30, 2020, to return to work in critical shortage positions without a one year waiting period or a reduction or suspension of benefits if there are no other properly certified non-retiree candidates to fill the vacancy. Does not apply to disability retirees or certain retirees filling critical shortages at higher education institutions. Requires that any cost of proposed law be funded with additional employer contributions.	NO POSITION
SB 1	Pending Senate Retirement	Current law provides for the transfer of all employee and employer contributions when an employee transfers from one public retirement system to another.	NEUTRAL
HR 82 (US Cong.)	Referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means	The Social Security Fairness Act of 2023 repeals provisions that reduce Social Security benefits for individuals who receive other benefits, such as a pension from a state or local government.	SUPPORT

OPPOSE Senate Bill 5 In Its Original Form

How SB 5 and ESG Legislation could affect our benefit plan:

ESG stands for Environmental, Social, and Governance and is a hot topic in the worlds of investment and politics. ESG is a set of standards or criteria used by investors who want to consider more than just a company's financial performance when evaluating the risks tied to making an investment.

- Environmental criteria can focus on a company's environmental footprint, including energy use and corporate policies addressing climate change.
- Social criteria can examine if a company is being a good corporate citizen by looking at its treatment of employees, relationships with customers as well as its impact on communities and society at large.
- Governance criteria can delve into a company's managerial composition and compensation, its ethics and transparency. Some believe use of ESG criteria gives investors broader insight into investment risks. A company may have an impressive profit margin, but lack quality control measures that ensure it complies with government regulations. By adding ESG criteria to the mix, investors consider a multitude of risk factors in projecting a company's long-term stability, value, and earnings potential.

ESG has drawn criticism for injecting non-financial factors into investment decisions. Each plank in ESG often means different things to different people. Proponents might use ESG criteria as a metric for measuring relevant business concerns, such as a business location or audit results. Opponents might say that ESG is concerned with social outcomes untethered to financial returns. Therein lies the frustration for those entrusted with making investment decisions for thousands of retirement system members.

For example, if a law is passed restricting investments in companies that do not report on their environmental impact, that would be ESG. Alternatively, if an anti-ESG law is passed stating that investors cannot take into account a company's environmental impact, that would likewise be ESG. The issue of ESG is highly subjective.

How does this impact you? Retirement system investments are usually overseen by boards of trustees, executive administrators, and investment professionals and consultants. These individuals are considered fiduciaries responsible for always acting in the best interest of retirement system members. They bear personal liability should they fail to fulfill their fiduciary duties. These fiduciary responsibilities include making prudent investment decisions (maximizing returns and minimizing risk) and following a sound investment policy to pay retirement benefits to retirees and their beneficiaries.

What is the impact of ESG laws? A diverse investment portfolio and a strong asset allocation are key to achieving the best return on investments. When opponents or proponents of ESG seek to restrict or expand the use of ESG criteria in investment decision-making, a cascading effect takes place. ESG directives that restrict or compel investment in certain areas can lead to increased fees and a loss of investment opportunities across those areas as well as other unintended consequences.

An ESG hypothetical: Suppose an ESG law passes that prohibits a retirement system from investing in any company that has pledged to cut its greenhouse gas emissions to zero by 2050 (net-zero emissions).

The intent of the law is to support a state's oil and gas industry that employs thousands workers. However, the unintended consequence is that investments in ExxonMobil and Shell Global—companies with huge workforces in the state—would be forbidden because they have long-term plans to achieve net-zero emissions by 2050. (Shell Global climate target & ExxonMobile greenhouse gas statement).

So, what is the result? The new law not only undermines its stated intent to support Louisiana's oil and gas industry, it also limits a retirement system's option to invest in a business—even when the investment is likely to produce stable returns. In simple terms, ESG can create subjective directives that disrupt a fiduciary's duty to act in the best interests of the retirement plan and its members.
